

Cleaning

UNDERSTANDING CLEANING PRODUCTS

Study the “Types of Cleansers” box. Then read each cleaning situation and decide which type of cleanser should work best. Use the product names as clues. Using each only once, write the best cleanser for each situation at the bottom of the small boxes.

TYPES OF CLEANSERS

Disinfectant Cleanser for Tile, Formica, and Chrome

Toilet Bowl Cleanser

Glass Cleanser

Dusting Spray

All Purpose Household Cleanser

Drain Opener

When Melissa is taking a shower, water backs up over her ankles. The shower takes about half an hour for all the water to drain.

Type of Cleanser:

Todd has a four-year-old daughter who loves to look at herself in the bathroom mirror. She often leaves fingerprints all over the mirror.

Type of Cleanser:

The ceramic tiles in John’s bathroom feel rough and look dirty.

Type of Cleanser:

The counters in Jeremy’s kitchen have food and drink spills on them.

Type of Cleanser:

Kyle cleans his toilet every week, whether it looks dirty or not. This is a cleaning habit he learned from his mother.

Type of Cleanser:

The Wilsons live in a desert area where there are many dust storms. Their furniture is often covered with grains of sand.

Type of Cleanser: