

Putting Your Best Foot Forward

GIVING YOUR BEST EFFORT

Effort is another way of saying “trying hard.” Read each work task below. Decide what should be done. Write a “best effort” idea for handling each issue.

When the shipping employees arrive at work on Monday, they find packing peanuts all over the floor. They get paid per box packed. No one wants to take the time to clean the mess. What should they do and why?

A fun thing about working at a video store is getting to watch movies. It is easy to miss seeing a customer when a good movie is playing. How can employees watch movies and not make customers wait?

Mrs. Densing goes to the clinic to get a shot. Sara, the new nurse, calls her to an examining room. Mrs. Densing says, “You’re too young to know what you are doing. I want a real nurse.” What should Sara say or do?

Joel has a job selling radio ads. He either has to forget about customers who are undecided or call them back several times. What do you think he should do?
